

Dear Parents,

We hope you and your family are continuing to keep safe and well during this difficult time.

Congratulations! We have all successfully survived 5 weeks of on-line learning! The Primary team would like to thank you all for the support you have given us during this testing time.

These holidays are going to be very strange for all of us, as we all continue to follow the lockdown guidelines. Some parents have contacted us as they would like extra work over the next two weeks, we fully understand this request and have attached some links below for those parents who are interested.

Lock down activity ideas

Epic research project ideas

Some additional resources for families during this time can be found here.

Any work completed is completely voluntary and not requested to be sent back to their teacher or uploaded to Seesaw. I know the Primary team are looking forward to a break away from the screen and an opportunity to read and relax.

Also, there is a Spring Break art competition, it was first launched by J. Paul Getty Museum in Los Angeles and challenges us all to dive into art and create our own copy of a masterpiece with objects we have at home. For further information please see the attached Google Slides doc and the link below. The winning entries will receive prizes.

Google slides: Art competition

Getty Museum Recreate Artwork

If your child does enter the competition, please send all entries via email and add the photo as an attachment to: primarycompetition@csianglo.org

It is also important that the following text is written in the email when entering:

NAME of both Parents, authorise the attached picture to be used for non-commercial purposes by the Anglophone Section. We understand that this picture might be used and/or displayed (school website, school...) to illustrate the work that was done during the period of lockdown.

Over the holidays there will be some maintenance work carried out on the Primary technology Google Drive. Due to this, all students who have csianglo.org email accounts will not be able to login again until Monday 4th of May, the children affected by this have already been informed.

I know we all miss our students and are very much looking forward to being back together again, hopefully not in the too distant future.

We wish you all a restful two weeks. Continue to keep safe and well.

Kindest regards,

The Primary Anglo Team